

Students of the Month

The Renaissance Committee is proud to Announce that the Students of the Month
Of February are:
Megan Miragliotto and Brandon Mansueto

Megan has been a joy to teach in class. She is a respectful, kind and driven young lady. Megan is extremely hard working which is clearly demonstrated by her work ethic. She comes to class prepared each day and is always positive about each new activity and lesson. Megan is quick to participate and add to class discussions and activities. Megan is always willing to help her classmates. She is a pleasure to have in class.

Brandon is an extremely hard working and enthusiastic student, who I believe is an excellent role model for his peers. He is very patient, caring, and helpful, as well as considerate of others and respectful of both his fellow students and his teachers. As the newest member of the AVID family, Brandon has embraced all that the program has to offer and it shows- his grades have improved tremendously and he exhibits a maturity to his education, unlike anything I've seen. Ultimately, through accomplishing all coursework and bringing energy to class discussions he proved himself to be an able student, a hard worker, an intelligent individual, and a pleasure to have in class.
